Transcription Practice Exercise 5—Argentinean Spanish

This exercise consists of 20 items to transcribe, each repeated twice. The consonants and vowels in these items are included in this set:

Consonants:

\[
p \quad b \quad t \quad d \quad k \quad g \\
\beta \quad f \quad \delta \quad s \quad z \quad x \quad y \quad h \\ m \quad n \quad \eta \quad \rho \quad l \quad r \quad w \quad j \\
\tilde{t} \quad \tilde{d} \quad \tilde{f} \quad \tilde{g}
\]

Vowels: i, e, a, o, u

(Transcribe all variants as the closest of these five.)

There is also a voiceless vowel \([\varepsilon] \), sometimes followed by \([h] \).

Transcription exercise: In a few cases, the first and second repetitions of an item differ somewhat: (3), (5), and (10) sound different in certain consonants. The slight differences in (3) and (10) can be ignored (if you hear them at all), but (5) should be transcribed twice. Also, the first repetition of (17) has a syllabic nasal instead of a vowel + nasal. Transcribe it with a vowel, as in the second repetition. Be sure to mark stress.

1. _________________________ 11. _________________________
2. _________________________ 12. _________________________
3. _________________________ 13. _________________________
4. _________________________ 14. _________________________
5a. _______________ 5b. _____________ 15. _________________________
6. _________________________ 16. _________________________
7. _________________________ 17. _________________________
8. _________________________ 18. _________________________
9. _________________________ 19. _________________________
10. _________________________ 20. _________________________